Skw & Summer

John: RIGHT ON re your letter to Howard; you and I will get along fine if you continue to think that way! Lorry definitely should be salaried; Lisa is an unknown quantity to me so I can't comment re her tho I've always been biased against hourly rates.

Your priorities seem quite correct from my cursory views here in the trenches.

Giving up salary for the last half of July seems enuf of a sacrifice so don't be so quick to offer August salary also; Jordan's last day is tomorrow so that frees up $1,156+ which can go towards your airfare?

Going back to salaries --- Marly already is on salary and Janu has asked to be (and I think she should be) so I'll position her to look to you for this possibly to happen maybe in August?

Stick with your AMEX card on the ticket; I'll work on finding a couch and a car tho the car might be difficult; on the other hand, gas is a set cost no matter whether rental or borrowed and some agencies are renting at $15 to $17 to $25 per day.

I'll be over there briefly this aft working with Janu on some number matters: some sloppiness re about $2K in advances to employees; the sloppiness is over cause NO advances to anyone and I'm the bad guy trying to collect the money owed WER; health insurance payments needs tightening as well.

Lastly, 7 shs of IBM was "found" (they've had it since 1987!) and unless you tell me otherwise I'll proceed to open an account somewhwere and have it sold (and net $300 +/-, more for your ticket).

Again, right on re your memo to HLR.
